Mead Chapel at Night

The Chapel

The Campus lights, gay-gleaming, one by one
Have twinkled and gone out; but still on high
The stars are left to share their watch alone.
Those silver-armored sentries of the sky
Now faintly glimmer through the steepled pines,
Thy marble pillars, beautiful as truth;
And far above, thy spire in radiance shines,
All halo-lighted with the prayers of youth.
If only thou watch faithfully and well,
Who knows, but into dreaming hearts may creep
Fair thoughts, born of thy splendor and thy spell
Of loveliness? A world's hope lies asleep
Beneath thy solemn vigil, O thou still,
White guardian spirit of the college hill.

—A. Pauline Locklin

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Middlebury first heard of 1926 in the mellow autumn days of 1922, when as verdant "frosh" we straggled into town. We heard of 1925 that very famous first night when we prayed for rain—and got what we prayed for! As soon as we had recovered from the cordial welcome accorded us by the Sophomores, we took matters into our own hands and showed 1927 just what they were up against! 1926 triumphed in every class scrap. We entered as the good old Sophomore paddle was on the wane, but its passing left a marked impression on our past.

We have done our share in contributing to college activities. Our members have made teams, societies and campus offices, become socially and scholastically prominent, and made 1926 a class that has cause to be proud of its record. Three of our number will graduate this year and wear the gold key.

We have become imbued with that traditional spirit which emanates from the hills to which this volume is dedicated. In class rivalry we have held together. In college spirit we possess an inexhaustible supply. When we go from Middlebury we shall carry into our business and professional lives the principles so firmly established by the training received within her walls, determined to bring her honor and fame. In days of old the knights used to be presented with a globlet of wine as they went forth to battle—a "stirrup-cup," it was called. Our sheepskins will be our stirrup-cups ere we enter the battle of life, and holding them high we'll propose a toast:

"Middlebury—here's to you!"

THE ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Athletic Council is the advisory board on undergraduate athletic activities. All policies and schedules are passed by it before being submitted to the Undergraduate Association. Its membership consists of four faculty members, and six upperclassmen, who are not members of the Student Council. The managers of the major sport teams are ex-officio members of the board also.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

A new and never-to-be-forgotten page was added to Middlebury's athletic history last fall by a team that will go down in the annals of the college as the greatest ever to represent Middlebury in any sport on any field. It was a team that broke previous records, made new ones, and Saturday after Saturday brought new glory and fame to Middlebury by its consistent and hard-hitting tactics.

In but one of the eight games was the Blue and White defeated and then only by the Crimson machine in the Stadium, before a crowd that was Middlebury on every hand. Strange as it may seem, sports critics claim that Harvard played her best game of the season against Middlebury—a tribute to the Blue and White and perhaps one explanation of the Harvard victory.

In all of her other seven contests Middlebury came through with decisive margins of victory and at the end of the season she was not only the object of much attention in New England, but was in the limelight of football brilliance throughout the United States, having piled up 254 points during the season and placing first among all eastern elevens, big and small, in high scoring honors and was the third highest scoring team among all the college elevens in the country.

In addition to her successful season the Black Panther brought back to Middlebury another choice morsel that Middlebury elevens had been fighting for for four years—the Vermont State Championship—for Middlebury defeated both the University of Vermont and Norwich handily and once more gained possession of the coveted title.

Several things contributed to the great success of the Blue and White machine, chief among them the untiring work of Coach Morey, who for four years had worked with this same group of men. For four years they had improved steadily and brought new honor to Middlebury and then in their last year of college football they reached the apex of their power and the fruition of Coach Morey's plans. It was one of the most perfect examples of a perfectly drilled and precisely working team to be found anywhere in the country and finally it was a team of eleven men playing as one superhuman man and a team on which every man played as eleven men.

At the close of the season, as a fitting tribute for the wonderful record made by the Middlebury eleven and the high honor which they had brought to the college, the entire squad were the guests of honor at a banquet given in the Hotel Addison by the business men of the town, which was attended by dignitaries from all parts of the state. Not only was the team banqueted and fêted, but each one of the letter men was presented with a gold football in recognition of their title as Vermont State Champions.

MIDDLEBURY 20—ST. MICHAEL'S 0

In the opening game of the season played September 27 on Porter Field, Middlebury scored an easy win over St. Michael's in a contest which gave Coach Morey an excellent opportunity to try out all of his material. Captain Klevenow scored early in the first quarter, and in the second quarter Middlebury scored again when Carboy received a St. Mike's punt that went straight into the air and landed in his arms five yards from the goal line. In the third period, Hollquist on a thirty yard end run put the ball in scoring position for Keene to carry it over. Whitney and Kilbride kicked the goal after the last two touchdowns.

MIDDLEBURY 16—UNION 0

Playing a strong offensive game of straight football and putting up an impregnable defense the Blue and White machine decisively trounced the Union team 16 to 0 the following Saturday in Schenectady. Middlebury got possession of the ball early in the game after Union had failed to make any progress.

Straight line plunging carried the ball to the 10-yard line, only to have Union recover on a fumble. Union unable to gain, punted to Middlebury on the 38-yard line. Here Middlebury opened her aerial attack and a pass from Hollquist to Potter carried the ball over with Captain Klevenow adding the extra point. During the second and third quarters, both teams fought on an equal footing with the exception of one spectacular play when Slick Whitney got away for a 70-yard run. In the fourth quarter Middlebury received a Union punt and started to gain, only to have the Union line stiffen to an impenetrable extent. Again the overhead game was tried and Whitney scored on a 15-yard pass from Papke. In the last few minutes of the game the Union team made a valiant attempt to break through the Middlebury defense via the aerial route, but Captain Klevenow intercepted a pretty pass from Brigham and ran 20 yards. From this point on the 25-yard line Whitney drop-kicked a goal for the final points.

HARVARD 16—MIDDLEBURY 6

In a valiant attempt to better their 6-6 tie and fighting against greatest odds and against a team that displayed their best ability of the year against Middlebury, the fighting Black Panther eleven bowed in defeat, 16 to 6, before the Crimson team in the Stadium on October 11. It was a strong Middlebury team that fought over every inch of the stadium gridiron, only to be defeated by a slightly stronger Harvard team that had the advantage of two unfortunate breaks against Middlebury. Time after time the Middlebury defensive proved to be an impregnable stonewall for the Harvard team when the ball was on the 10-yard line. Harvard's score came as a result of two touchdowns by Gehrke and a field goal, and Middlebury's score came as the result of a blocked kick and a beautiful pass from Papke to Lobo, who tore through the Harvard defense for 20 yards and a Middlebury touchdown.

For the greater part of the first two quarters the two teams battled on an even basis with first one then the other getting the ball on the way to the goal posts. In the second quarter Harvard tried two drives against the Middlebury goal, but in both cases lost possession of the ball within striking distance. However, on a third attempt after being held twice on the 1-yard line Gehrke slipped through for the first touchdown with Spalding booting the goal.

Late in the third quarter Middlebury opened up and fought as only a Black Panther team could. Gehrke had gone back to punt when McLaughlin tore through and picked up the ball, being tackled on the 22-yard line. Harvard was penalized five yards and Papke lost five. Then Whitney threw a long pass to Lobo who was far over to the right and uncovered. Lobo swallowed the ball in his arms and was off for the other side of the goal line. Klevenow tried a placement kick, but failed as the ball hit the middle of the bar and left Middlebury one point behind the Crimson.

In the middle of the fourth quarter Rogers dropped a kick over the bars from the 25-yard line and then opened an offensive line rush that carried Gehrke over with the ball for the final touchdown. The game ended with the ball in Middlebury's possession in mid-field.

MIDDLEBURY 26—TUFTS 7

Middlebury invaded the Bay State the following Saturday and by uncovering one of the most sensational aerial attacks ever witnessed in Tufts Alumni Oval, Middlebury decisively defeated Tufts 26 to 7.

In the first quarter the two teams appeared to be very evenly matched, but early in the second period a poor punt by French was downed on the 25-yard line. Hollquist and Lobo tore through the Tufts line and placed the ball on the 2-yard marker. Captain Klevenow went through for the touchdown, but was unable to kick the goal. Before Tufts realized what it was all about another Middlebury touchdown was in the offing, as Lobo ran the ball back 10 yards. Here a pass from Hollquist to Potter netted 40 yards and by straight line plunging the ball was placed in position for Papke to score with Klevenow kicking the goal. Again in the third quarter Middlebury broke up several Tufts' attempts to score as McLaughlin consistently spoiled their forward passes, after which Middlebury took the ball and Lobo carried it over. In the fourth quarter Middlebury let loose with her overhead skill and a pass from Papke to Lobo took the ball from Middlebury's 40-yard line to Tufts' 40-yard line, followed by two more passes of 30 to 10 yards, which gave Middlebury her final touchdown. Tufts' score came at the close of the game when Schroeder intercepted a Middlebury pass and eventually carried it over the goal, with Perry kicking the extra point.

Middlebury 15—Vermont 0

MIDDLEBURY 15—VERMONT 0

Breaking loose with a superior passing and line plunging attack Middlebury completely outplayed and outgeneraled the University of Vermont 15 to 0, on Porter Field, October 25, earning her first victory over the Green and Gold since 1920 and gaining first leg of the State Championship title. Just as Middlebury fought gamely and winning throughout, so did Vermont fight to the last minute, but she lacked offensive power and ability to penetrate the Middlebury defensive, although her own defensive stiffened sufficiently at critical moments to prevent more Blue and White touchdowns.

Twice in the first quarter Middlebury displayed her crushing offensive power only to be denied a touchdown. Once after bringing the ball to the 7-yard line it was fumbled to Vermont and again later in the period Middlebury was held for downs after getting the ball to the 2-yard marker. At the close of the second quarter Vermont once more held on the 3-yard line.

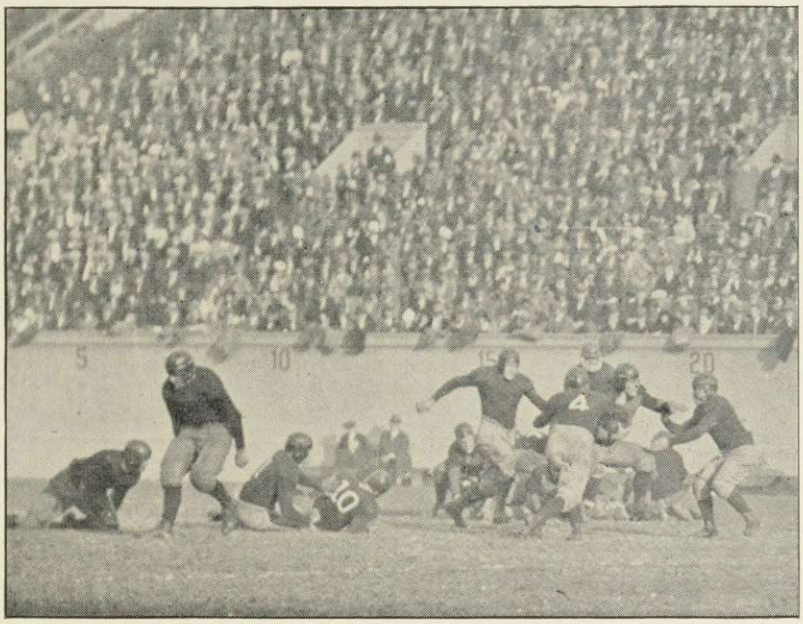
In the second quarter the Blue and White made their first score after Yarnall had punted to the 44-yard line. Hollquist and Klevenow made consistent gains, after which McLaughlin, in a criss-cross, gained 10 yards, with Klevenow and Lobo making short gains. Then on a forward pass from Papke to Lobo on the 17-yard line the latter scored, having a clear field to cross the line. In the third quarter Vermont was in a scoring position twice, but was unable to make any consistent gains. Finally Middlebury got the ball back of mid-field with Lobo, Hollquist and Klevenow making gains for a first down and Lobo breaking through for a 23-yard gain.

Then came the most sensational play of the afternoon when Hollquist threw a 30-yard pass to McLaughlin who was tearing goal-wards at breakneck speed. McLaughlin made one leap forward, grabbed the ball out of the air, brushed a Vermont back to one side, raced on to the goal and scored a touchdown. Hardly had Vermont recovered from this surprise when Yarnall attempted to punt from the 7-yard line, only to have Potter dash in and block the kick, giving Middlebury a safety and the final score of the game. The ball then see-sawed back and forth until the last few minutes when Potter intercepted a pass from Tarpey and ran to the 14-yard line. Hollquist passed to Papke, who received it on the 1-yard line as the final whistle blew.

MIDDLEBURY 32—NORWICH 7

After a rest of two weeks Middlebury ran wild over Norwich to the tune of 32 to 7 and gained a firm hold on the 1924 State Championship of Vermont. Norwich was primed for Middlebury and had prepared especially for this game. Everything that they had, they put into the scrap in a vain effort to block the unstoppable Klevenow, Lobo and Hollquist.

Middlebury broke into the scoring column on the first play of the second quarter when Klevenow made a touchdown, but failed to kick the goal. Again in the third Middlebury came back strong and after Lobo and Hollquist had hammered the Norwich line to pieces, Klevenow went through again. Before another five minutes had elapsed Hollquist had reversed his field and cut diagonally through for another touchdown. A Middlebury aerial attack failed and



Middlebury vs. Harvard, 1924

Klevenow broke through the line for another touchdown. After this point Norwich scored when the ball was passed over Kilbride's head as he was about to kick. He hastily recovered it and in his haste passed it to Sherman of Norwich, who went over for the score. Middlebury's final touchdown came in the last quarter after Lobo had made spectacular gains of 20 and 25 yards and placed the ball in position for Klevenow to score. Every man on the squad was given a chance to get into the game against the cadets.

MIDDLEBURY 74—TRINITY 7

The following week a cyclonic aerial attack that was perfect in its wrecking power descended on Trinity in the form of the Middlebury football machine and after four quarters of whirlwind and tornado playing Middlebury swept off the field with a 74 to 7 victory in her grasp. Not only did the Blue and White team completely subdue the Trinity eleven, but it made history by piling up the highest score ever accumulated by any Middlebury team. It ran up the highest score for that Saturday and the third highest score of the season among all colleges in the country.

From the start Middlebury played great football, with every man working in harmony to make the team a perfectly working machine. To a large extent Coach Morey's men chose the aerial attack to exterminate the Hartford collegians and their choice was a wise one, for in the first twelve minutes of play the Black Panthers had gathered thirty-four points with comparative ease, and so it ran until the end, while the Trinity team was almost helpless offensively and defensively before the powerful Middlebury eleven. Whitney tore away time after time for long runs; Lobo shot through the Trinity primar yand secondary defense like a bullet, while Papke and Hollquist were using their aerial tactics to perfection. A large gathering of alumni from all parts of the Connecticut Valley filled the Middlebury cheering section.

MIDDLEBURY 65—LOWELL TEXTILE 7

After a three day rest from the Trinity game the Middlebury football warriors once more donned their war-time garb and as a climax to the most successful season ever played by a Middlebury eleven, overwhelmed Lowell Textile 65 to 7 on Porter Field to the joy of every Middlebury undergraduate. It was the last game for several of the Blue and White gridsters and the manner in which they played their last game was a credit to themselves and to the team. Every man was at his best and Klevenow, Hollquist, Lobo and Potter were perfect. Lobo and Hollquist each scored three touchdowns, while Klevenow smashed the Lowell line to bits at frequent intervals. Potter distinguished himself on two occasions when he received passes and ran fifty yards for touchdowns. Middlebury scored on her first play after getting the ball as Lobo took a 20-yard pass from Papke and raced 50 yards to the goal posts. Middlebury kept things moving at top speed throughout the game, with Lowell's short-lived rallies failing with but one exception. During the last quarter Middlebury played as spectacular football as any team ever could. With the score 47 to 7 the Black Panther let loose with everything he had in the way of passes, line plunging and kicking as he rolled up 18 points.

SUMMARY OF SEASON

Eleven victories, four defeats, and one tie was the enviable record made by the Blue and White baseball team last spring in what was one of the most successful seasons ever played by a Black Panther nine. Early in the season Middlebury's prospects looked the darkest in years, due to an unusually late spring and seeming lack of material due to graduation and ineligibility, but after spring finally penetrated the confines of the Green Mountains our hopes brightened in harmony with the weather. The candidates for the team sacrificed a large part of the spring recess with the result that a well-developed outfit had been whipped into shape when we returned.

With few exceptions the team was composed of veterans from other years, among whom were Papke, Whitney, Captain Hastings, Novotny, Klevenow, Martin, Kilbride, Towne, Witham, Hellman and Banks. Conley, who was on the team his freshman year, returned to the lineup again and played third, while the only newcomer was Hasseltine, a freshman who distinguished himself at first throughout the season. Especially strong was the pitching staff developed by Coach Morey, which was a big factor for Middlebury when the games were close together. Captain Hastings bore the brunt of the twirling, with Klevenow, Witham and Towne doing relief duty.

Probably the most notable game of the season was the contest at Burlington on May 13, with the University of Vermont, which ended in a scoreless tie in the tenth inning, when darkness made further play impossible. In addition to this remarkable game with Vermont, Middlebury thrice turned back the Norwich cadets, and administered a double dose of defeat to St. Michael's, which made us co-claimants with Vermont for the State Championship. The other big game of the season for the Blue and White was the 6-1 victory over Springfield, who came here with a long record of wins, only to be hopelessly outclassed by the Blue and White.

The Middlebury season opened on Porter Field on April 25, with President Moody throwing out the first ball against the New York State Teachers College. Middlebury won 11 to 0 in a very one-sided fray when the Teachers went completely to pieces in the second inning. Hastings, Klevenow and Towne all twirled superbly.

Middlebury's next game was against Harvard, and she lost 11 to 5, largely through failure to take advantage of the frequent scoring opportunities offered by the sloppy fielding of the Crimson nine. Middlebury got away to an early lead only to have Harvard come back in the third. Conley and Whitney starred for Middlebury with their clever wielding of the stick.

The next day the Blue and White went to Worcester and in typical May-day fashion romped away with an 8 to 1 victory over Worcester Polytechnic Institute in a hitting spree wherein they knocked Calder, star W. P. I. twirler, from the box in the third, and piled up fourteen clean hits. Klevenow pitched for Middlebury and received excellent support. The Blue and White team, in addition to their hitting and running demonstration, got away with twelve bases.

Again returning to the Hub, Middlebury won over Boston University 3 to 2 in a gruelling contest that was won almost single handed by Captain Hastings, whose air-tight pitching and home-run in the eighth broke up the game and paved the way for a Black Panther victory.

Just as Captain Hastings had distinguished himself the day previous, so did Frank Towne prove himself against Boston College the following day, when the Panther held the Eagle to a 4 to 1 score largely through the pitching and stickwork of Towne.

On May 5 Middlebury won her first hold on the State Championship, defeating St. Michael's 6 to 4 at Winooski by timely tapping of the ball and fine support, with Klevenow and Hastings pitching.

In the only game of Junior Week, played on May 8, Middlebury further strengthened her hold on the state series by winning 5 to 1 over Norwich after Williams lost control and his support weakened in the third. Norwich drew first blood, but Middlebury came back strong and executed two beautiful double steals in the course of the game and completely outplayed the cadets.

On May 13 Middlebury played her only game against the Green and Gold with a scoreless tie as the result. It was by far one of the best games ever played by a Middlebury nine, with both sides playing a fast aggressive type of ball. Early in the game it was evident that the contest was to be a battle between Newton, pitching for Vermont, and Towne, on the slab for Middlebury. It was Frankie's own game in every sense of the word, for time after time Vermont would get men on bases and be all set to score when Towne would retire the Green and Gold batsmen via the strike-out route.

The next day Middlebury entertained the St. Lawrence nine, which forfeited to the Blue and White in the fifth with one man out and with Middlebury on the winning side of a 1 to 0 score.

Continuing on his winning rampage, the Black Panther sunk his claws into the highly touted Springfield nine, which proved to be an excellent morsel for the Panther, who chawed up the Red and White team 6 to 1. Three Springfield pitchers tried to stop Middlebury, but she was unstoppable that day and kept going right through to the end when Springfield left the field dejected.

Middlebury dealt St. Michael's their second defeat on May 19 when a wild throw by Maroney and a double steal by Whitney and Martin enabled the Blue and White to score twice in the third.

In a baseball comedy of errors played against the New York Teachers College on May 23, Middlebury triumphed 7 to 1. Each man tried about every position on the team with Klevenow, Witham and Papke toying with the Albanians from the pitchers' box.

The next day Middlebury lost a heartbreaking game to Union in a gruelling pitchers' battle. Captain Hastings had the Union nine well in hand for eight innings, but by bunching hits in the final frame the Garnet and Gray won 2 to 1.

Bates caught Middlebury napping on May 29 and won over the Blue and White 7 to 1. Middlebury's pitcher weakened in the second and the seventh innings, and along with him his support.

On Memorial Day Middlebury showed a reversal of form and had an easy time defeating Norwich 7 to 3 on Sabine Field. A hitting spree in the fourth and ninth innings accounted for the Blue and White win.

Playing before a large Commencement crowd on June 14, Middlebury scored her third win of the season over Norwich and brought to a fitting close one of her most successful seasons, in which she scored 78 runs to her opponents' 41. Middlebury got away in the third inning, and tucked the game away by shoving five runs over. Captain Hastings, pitching his last game for Middlebury, retired in favor of Towne in the seventh.

SUMMARY OF SEASON

The last football uniform had been scarcely packed away for the winter when Coach Dave Morey issued his call for basketball candidates. From a field of twenty-five candidates, fifteen survived the first cut. The letter men available were Captain Hollquist, Knowles, W. R. Rice, R. L. Rice and F. B. Rich. In addition to these men there were several promising players from the freshman team of the year before.

The Black Panther quintet opened the season at Troy, N. Y., on December 19, losing to R. P. I. engineers 39 to 19. The first half of the game was nip and tuck throughout, but in the second half the Trojans forged ahead and ran up a substantial lead.

Continuing on to New York City, the Blue and White Hoopsters met three fast quintets. On Saturday evening The Savage School upheld their name by administering a 53 to 24 drubbing to the Vermont team. On Monday night, December 22, the Black Panther again was forced to yield. St. John's College at Brooklyn presented a fast team, although they succeeded in gaining only a thirteen point margin in a 54 to 41 score. "Short" Rice and "Stoney" Hollquist each caged seven baskets for the Blue.

Fifty-seven to thirty-four was the final outcome of the game with Crescent

A. C. on the following night, but the New York men won only after a lively struggle. Hollquist, McNeil and "Short" Rice all did fine work for Middlebury. Playing their first game of the State series at Northfield on January 6, the Blue and White team ripped up the Norwich Cadets 42 to 17. Never did the Cadets lead the Midd men, although the first half ended 10 to 13. In the second period, Middlebury ran wild and left Norwich trailing.

Despite a well-staged rush in the opening minutes of the fray, Williams took the measure of Morey's men the evening of January 10, at Williamstown, by running up a final score of 35 to 22. A ten point lead stood the Panthers well, but Williams had decreased this to two points at half time. The work of Hollquist and McNeil was again outstanding.

On January 13, at Winooski Park, the Middlebury team annexed another leg of the State series by defeating St. Michael's 39 to 24.

Three days later, January 16, saw the Black Panther facing an old foe in the Crimson. The first half of the game was all Harvard, but in the second period, the Green Mountain Boys threw a scare into Jawn's camp by coming within two points of tying the score. A last minute rally, however, put a safe margin between the two teams and when the final gun sounded, the tally read Harvard 32, Middlebury 22.

In the first home game of the season, Captain Hollquist's men were defeated by Springfield College 28 to 17 on February 6. Whether it was the result of too many exams or lack of practice, the team did not show up as well as in previous games. Failure to get an early start was probably the outstanding cause, for in the second period, the Blue team outplayed the Bay State men. "Short" Rice and Hasseltine starred for Middlebury.

On February 14, the annual tussle with U. V. M. was staged in Burlington. Needless to say, the game was rough and fast. Vermont's defense was well done and although the Blue players outpassed the Green and Gold they were unable to get within reach of the basket. The final score was 29 to 21.

On the last trip of the season Coach Morey's charges broke even by losing to New Hampshire at Durham 37 to 25, on February 27, and winning over Northeastern in Boston 32 to 16 the following night. The Boston team had had a good record and their defeat came as rather a surprise to them.

St. Michael's came to Middlebury on March 3, only to receive their second defeat in the hands of the Blue and White. The result was never in doubt, although the Purple vainly endeavored to overcome the early lead run by Middlebury in the first period. Captain Hollquist led his men in scoring six baskets and a free throw. Knowles played one of his best games of the year, closely following Hollquist by scoring five field goals. The Rice brothers and Hasseltine also turned in some fine work. The score was Middlebury 48, St. Michael's 23.

Vermont needed only to beat Middlebury to get the State title and on March 6 she came into the Panther's den and did it after a hard struggle. The Midd men seemed to have lost some of the snap shown in the St. Michael's game and were further hampered by the unnecessary roughness of the U. V. M. team. Vermont got the lead and managed to keep a few points ahead, the final result being 42 to 30.

In the last game of the season, the loyal sons of Gamaliel Painter came back with a will and plastered a 38 to 34 defeat on Boston University, Monday evening, March 9. The Hub City quintet had been one of the few to beat Vermont and came to Middlebury with a good record. In a few minutes the score read 15 to 3 for Midd, but ere the half ended the Panther was leading but by four points.

The second half was nip and tuck, with the Blue holding its lead by a scant margin, and Boston University shooting from mid-floor in an effort to stave off defeat. The work of "Short" Rice and Hollquist was a feature of the game, while both Knowles and Bill Rice contributed to B. U.'s downfall.

Although in games won the season was not especially successful, the Blue quintet took second place in the State series, winning twice over Norwich and St. Michael's and losing only to Vermont by small margins. Much new material was discovered and since Captain Hollquist is the only man who will be lost by graduation, the prospects for next year look bright. Coach Morey was hampered in several ways, but the results that he obtained have been such as to throw credit upon him.

SUMMARY OF SEASON

By taking first place in the State Championship meet and winning four of the five meets the Blue and White track team of 1924 proved itself to be one of the best ever developed at Middlebury. The strong Amherst team was the only one to win over Middlebury. In the first meet of the season the Black Panther won handily over Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Norwich, Vermont and Hamilton were defeated in order. The sixth meet which was scheduled with Connecticut Agricultural College was cancelled, due to rain.

Not only was the team a winning one, but also a record breaking one, as three of the college records were shattered and one tied in the course of the season. Captain Cook set a new record of 50¾ seconds for the 440-yard dash in the Amherst meet, and on the same day Potter broke the high jump record with a jump of 5 feet, 7¼ inches. The distance in the javelin throw took three falls during the season due to the ability of Whitney, '25, and Eddy, '27. In the Worcester meet Eddy broke the former record with a heave of 135 feet, 6 inches. Two weeks later Whitney broke Eddy's record and set a new one of 137 feet, 6 inches, in the State Championship meet. The following week Eddy went Whitney one better and set another new record with a distance of 148 feet in the R. P. I. meet.

Captain Cook was the outstanding and individual star of the Blue and White team. He was Middlebury's high scorer and also high point man in the State Championship meet and a mighty factor in Middlebury's successful season in which she scored 382½ points to 289½ for her opponents.

On May 3 Middlebury lost her first meet to Amherst by a score of 87 to 48, with the Purple and White team being clearly superior to the Middlebury team. Despite her defeat, Middlebury won four firsts and broke two college records. Kendall, running his last year, came within two-fifths of a second of the college record in the 880-yard event. Cook in breaking the college record in the 440-yard dash ran a beautiful race, and Potter distinguished himself with a new record in the high jump. Hancock, a freshman, showed unusual ability when he came through first in the two-mile run. Cass was second high point man, taking first in the discus and second in the hammer throw.

On May 10 the Blue and White team completely outclassed the Worcester Polytechnic Institute track team by a score of 89 to 46. Cook was high point man, accounting for 13 of Middlebury's 89 points. Another college record was smashed when Eddy threw the javelin 135 feet, 6 inches. Middlebury won all the dashes and Cook equalled the college record of 23 seconds in the 220-yard dash. Peck, '24, won both the high and low hurdles events. In the weight events, the high jump and pole vault Middlebury took first places, but the records set were not especially good, due to the weakness of the Worcester team and the fact that Middlebury was taking things easy for the Connecticut meet on Monday. However, this meet had to be called off because the Aggie's field was submerged.

On May 17 the Middlebury team demonstrated her track supremacy and for the eighth consecutive year won the State Championship by piling up 81 points, with Vermont trailing with 34 and Norwich with 20. Middlebury placed in all of the events and won all three places in the two-mile run, the javelin throw and the 220-dash, while Vermont plainly had the edge on both Middlebury and Norwich in the weight events. Whitney again broke the college record in the javelin throw with a mark of 137 feet, 6 inches. Captain Harms of Vermont made an impressive showing in the pole vault with a mark of 11 feet, 1 inch, which Middlebury and Norwich failed to equal in several valiant attempts.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS

Shot put won by Simpson, Vermont; 2nd, Hill, Vermont; 3rd, McLaughlin. Distance 35 feet, 3½ inches.

880-yard run won by Barrington, Norwich; 2nd, Kendall, Middlebury; 3rd, Dollatd, Vermont. Time 2 minutes, 2.8 seconds.

Referee: W. G. Kleinspehn.
Starter: Harvey Kingsley.
Judges at Finish: F. W. Cady, P. N. Swett, C. F. Abbott.
Scorer: E. S. Kalin.

On the following Saturday Middlebury took revenge on R. P. I. by winning 87½ to 47½ on a wet field that considerably slowed up the time in the events. Once more the record for the javelin throw was broken when Eddy hurled it 148 feet. R. P. I. was unusually weak in the dashes, with the result that Middlebury took first, second and third in the sprinting events. R. P. I. was somewhat better in the field events, while the teams were well matched in the weight events.

In the last meet of the season, held with Hamilton at Clinton, N. Y., Middlebury finally won out with 77 points to her opponents' 58. It was by far the closest meet of the season, with the final outcome in doubt until the last few events when Middlebury piled up the winning points. The Hamilton men proved strong in the dash events and both teams were on an even basis in the field events. Middlebury, however, excelled in the weight events and it was her supremacy in these events that enabled her to win. Hancock was again the winner in the two-mile run, having won this event in every meet. In spite of the closeness of the score Middlebury took ten firsts to Hamilton's five.

CROSS-COUNTRY, SEASON 1924

ARTHUR M. BROWN.....Coach LUTHER KELLY.....Captain
ROBERT S. PFLUEGER.....Manager

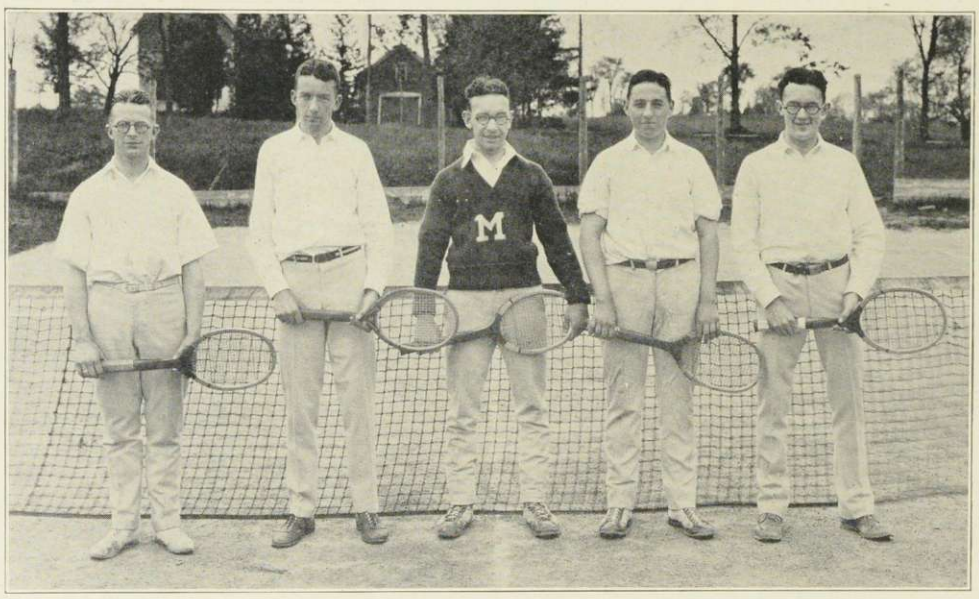
Middlebury's cross-country team participated in two meets last fall, and while she came out on the losing end in both cases, the men made a very creditable showing. In the first meet held with Harvard the day before the Harvard-Middlebury football game the Crimson won 20 to 49, even though Captain Kelly was the winner of the race and displayed excellent form in covering the five-mile course in a little under 28 minutes. However, Harvard took everything from second to ninth places, which gave her the margin of victory. Carlson, Robinson and Gollnick placed tenth, eleventh and twelfth, with Brookins, Hamlin and Stoughton taking fifteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth places.

The Black Panther's second meet of the season was at the New England Intercollegiates at Franklin Park, Boston, where Middlebury outran Bowdoin, Rhode Island, Boston University, Massachusetts State, and M. I. T. and took eighth place with a score of 200. Williams won with 66. The Middlebury team came in as follows: Captain Kelly, twenty-third; Whiting, thirty-seventh; Gollnick, forty-fifth; Carlson, forty-seventh; Dodd, forty-eighth; Brookins, fifty-seventh; and Robinson, seventy-fourth.



Hickox, Fletcher, Rich, Wolfskehl, Adams

TENNIS SEASON, 1924

F. Beacom Rich.....Manager Paul D. Moody..... ....Coach

Tennis took on a new aspect of importance in Middlebury's athletic program last spring when an auspicious schedule of eight games was carded by the manager, including several of the representative colleges of New England. Due to inclement weather and poor courts, however, some of the contests were of necessity cancelled.

Fletcher and Rich, who were on the team the previous year, were the chief performers before the net, while Wolfskehl and Hickox were the other two mainstays of the team and contributed considerably to Middlebury's showing, along with Adams and Twichell.

The team dropped the first match of the season to Vermont 4 to 2, but the score in no way indicates the closeness of the contest, which was not decided until the final match of the afternoon between Captain Rich of Middlebury and Captain Roberts of Vermont.

The next week Middlebury was twice defeated by the score of 6 to 0 at the hands of Springfield and Wesleyan. The first match was against Springfield, where the Blue and White met a superior brand of tennis and failed to take a match. Captain Rich, however, forced his man to three sets and was only beaten after a hard struggle. In the Wesleyan contest the Blue and White met one of the best teams in New England and put up a hard fight throughout.

In the final court game of the season Middlebury again lost to Springfield 5 to 1. The Red and White excelled in all of the singles matches and outclassed the Middlebury team in all of the doubles matches. Rich was Middlebury's individual star, with Hickox playing exceptionally well for the Blue and White.

In the fall, to create additional interest in the sport, a tournament was held to determine the class and college champion in tennis, with F. B. Rich, '25, defeating Paul Wolfskehl, '27, in a thrilling and hard fought contest.

HOCKEY

With a schedule of eleven games, the prospects for a successful hockey season loomed large when practice started before the Christmas vacation, but Old King winter went back on us. Consistent spells of warm weather ruined the ice and made necessary the cancellation of nine contests.

The first game of the season was played at Clinton, N. Y., on December 20. Hamilton presented a fast team which took the measure of the Black Panther pucksters by a 7-0 score.

Playing in top form at Troy, N. Y., Captain Leary's men snatched a 1-0 victory from the hands of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute on January 15. Twichell and Gonsalves were responsible for the only tally of the game.

Matches with St. Michael's, Union, Clarkson, West Point, Vermont, and Williams were called off on account of weather conditions.

Captain Jack Leary will be the only man who will be lost from the squad by graduation.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

BARNEY F. POTRATZ.....Coach ROLLINS A. FURBUSH.....Captain
JOHN W. MORRIS.....Manager

The call for Freshman football must have had a strong attraction to the members of the class of 1928 for fifty men, or nearly half the class, reported to Coach Potratz on the opening day of college. With such an abundance of material to work with, the task was one of selection and elimination rather than a search for men to fill the positions. Many of the prospective candidates for the team were men who had had a great deal of experience in high school. Six of them, in fact, had held the captaincy of their respective prep school elevens.

As in 1923 the Freshmen were handicapped by lack of a good place to practice. The proposed Freshman football field was still under construction, while the varsity had the use of Porter Field. Consequently we were greeted every afternoon for several weeks with the sight of several teams drilling on the campus. Later in the season the Frosh got onto their own field and worked out with the Varsity on certain occasions.

Coach Potratz was faced with a stiff schedule for which to whip his Black Panther Cubs into shape. Games with the strongest prep school teams in this section of New England were ahead of him with only a short period of practice before the first game. By the time that Proctor High School came to Middlebury on October 4, the squad had been reduced to thirty-five men.

The Proctor game was most encouraging to every Middlebury supporter present, for it showed conclusively that among the Panther Cubs there was a great amount of real football talent. Three complete teams were used during the game and all seemed to be of an equally high caliber. Brilliant work in the backfield resulted in four touchdowns for Middlebury, while the line was holding the Marble City boys almost at a standstill and never gave them a chance to get near the goal. The final score was 26 to 0. Gollnick and McCann each tallied for two touchdowns, while McCann added the extra point twice.

A real test faced the Cubs the next week when the Norwich Plebes visited Middlebury to open the State series. The game was played on Friday afternoon and there were few people in the stands to cheer on the yearlings for nearly the entire student body had left for Cambridge to see the Harvard game. However, the Frosh already had had the Middlebury spirit of fight ingrained into them and were determined that their first game against a state rival should result in a victory. Neither team seemed able to get under way in the first half and fumbles and poor team work kept both teams from scoring. At the opening of the second half, however, the Freshmen showed the form of the previous week and it was not long before Hinman plunged across the line for the first touchdown. Merriman followed suit a few minutes later. In the closing minutes of play Norwich resorted to an aerial attack which resulted in a touchdown for Middlebury when Blanchett intercepted a pass and ran twenty yards to score. Just as the game was closing Nock of Norwich snared a pass and scored for his team, making the final tally 18 to 6.

The yearlings met their first defeat of the season the following week when the strong Vermont Academy team came to Middlebury. Consistent gains gave the prep school boys a score in the first period. The rest of the game was a see-saw affair with neither side threatening seriously to score. Hinman and McChesney made especially good showings.

On October 25, while the Varsity was meeting the University of Vermont in the big home game of the season, Coach Potratz took his team down into Massachusetts to meet Williston Seminary. The breaks of the game were against the Freshmen and they lost again by a 7 to 0 score. An improvement was shown over the game of the previous week, but fumbles at critical moments spoiled good chances of scoring. Williston made the only score of the game in the third period when a back intercepted a pass and ran fifty yards to cross the last white line. The Blue showed a good defense in the final minutes of play when they twice held their opponents for downs within the shadow of the goal posts.

On the home field again the next week the yearlings came back into their own and ran roughshod over Kimball Union for a 25 to 0 score. The Kimball line seemed unable to hold in the first period and before three minutes had passed McCann had crashed through for a touchdown. Twice again before the first quarter had finished, McCann plowed through to score. Kimball seemed to stiffen up when Coach Potratz sent in a large number of substitutes and the second and third periods were scoreless. However, the Frosh were put into a position to score again in the closing minutes of play when Hinman intercepted a pass and ran it back nearly to the goal. Blanchett took the ball over for the final touchdown.

After a rest of two weeks the Blue Freshmen met Goddard Seminary in the final home game of the season. The boys from Barre came heralded as one of the best prep school combinations in New England and they showed decisively during the afternoon just why they had gained that reputation. After the Freshmen had held them scoreless in the first period, the boys in the red jerseys took advantage of a fumble to make the first touchdown of the game. Consistent gains soon resulted in another score. In the second half the Frosh put up a plucky fight and twice held for downs when a Goddard score seemed certain. However, a dropkick and a touchdown added ten points to the score and when the game ended Goddard had 23 points, while their goal had been unthreatened.

The Panther Cubs went to Burlington the following week for the last game of the season determined that they would win over Vermont and thereby gain the State Championship. The fates had decreed otherwise, however, and the game ended in a scoreless tie and resulted in the two teams resting in a deadlock for the State title. The Freshmen played a good game and clearly outplayed their opponents, gaining at will and never letting the Green and Gold get within sight of the goal. Overanxiousness and lack of punch at the critical moments kept the Blue from tallying and the game ended 0 to 0.

Although the team broke even in regard to games won and lost, the season was certainly a success from several points of view. The yearlings outscored their opponents 69 to 43. Much valuable material was uncovered which will be available for the coming season. Those who made the best showing during the season and seem the most likely prospects for the Varsity include Captain Furbush, Wiley, Hinman, McCann and Billings, while it is probable that with additional training there will be several others who will gain Varsity berths in the next year or two.

Freshman football numeral men: Captain Rollins A. Furbush, Manager Albert D. Leahy, Charles C. Arnold, Napoleon J. Blanchett, Henry O. Billings, William W. Crawford, Walter O. Gollnick, George R. Hinman, Clayton C. Jones, F. Kenneth Maynard, Thomas J. McCann, Warren E. McChesney, John C. Reilly, Carlton H. Simmons, Roland E. Weser and Gordon E. Wiley.

INTERFRATERNITY BASKETBALL

Under the sponsorship of the Sage Society, two interfraternity basketball leagues were formed last winter. Alpha Sigma Phi, Sigma Phi Iota, Chi Psi and Beta Kappa comprised the American League. The National League was made up of Delta Kappa Epsilon, Neutrals, Kappa Delta Rho and Delta Upsilon. Each team played two games with every other team in its own league.

Alpha Sigma Phi had an easy time in winning the championship of the American League, but in the National League Delta Kappa Epsilon and the Neutrals were forced to play a third game to decide the championship. The Dekes won the rubber game.

In the first game of the championship series, the D. K. E. team seemed to be a little off form and lost to Alpha Sigma Phi 16-13. However, in the second game, the Dekes came back with a will and tied the series by handing the Alpha Sigs a 41-30 trimming. The third and final match of the series was played before a record crowd on the evening of March 27. Delta Kappa Epsilon emerged triumphant after a hard struggle.

This victory gives that fraternity the temporary possession of the large silver loving cup offered by the Sages. The cup will be given permanently to the fraternity which wins it for three years.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Athletic Association is becoming of greater importance each year. This year the addition of an assistant in the physical education department has helped to provide a closer supervision in all sports.

The Association is working toward the ideal of having every girl out for some sport, not for the support of it as much as on the belief that there is a benefit derived from such activity. The organization of the Outing Club has done much to keep this idea alive.

HOCKEY

Although hockey has been pursued as a sport in Middlebury for only three seasons, the game has been worked up on a scientific basis to a remarkable degree. The coaching of Miss Feaver, an English enthusiast in the sport, last year gave the players many ideas which on account of limited time could not be worked up until this year. A great deal of interest in this sport has been in evidence, as a result of which a large number of girls have been able to profit by participating in the healthful game.

BASKETBALL

Basketball is always the sport in which interclass competition plays a big part. Each class with one of their brother classmen as coach worked up an efficient team. The championship game was between '24 and '26, ending in victory for the former team.

ALL-MIDD TEAM

Right forward—M. Baldwin, '24
Left forward—Noble, '24
Right guard—Cleveland, '24

BASEBALL

Weather conditions and college activities interfered with practice and kept the baseball season from being very successful. We are hoping for better luck this year.

TRACK

Track, coming at the same time as baseball has to share interest with it. Few practices were held and an All-Midd team was never chosen. There is a chance for more enthusiasm in both baseball and track.

TENNIS

With the arrival of Miss Rosevear as Miss Young's assistant tennis received a great impetus. A larger number of girls than ever before were out for the sport. A series of singles to decide the college champion left the title in the hands of Florence Lockerby, '28.

HORSEBACK RIDING

A new activity in athletics was introduced at Middlebury this year, that of horseback riding. By a vote of the Association it was established as a minor sport, with points given. A special effort was made to get the interest of the freshmen. As an inducement scholarships were awarded for which the sale of candy at the football games provided.

DANCING

At the beginning of the indoor season dancing, both folk and social, was substituted for volley ball. A great deal of enthusiasm has been shown, with large attendance in all the classes.

Hamlin Hall has been taken over by the Department of Physical Education and files have been installed in which the records of both the Department and Association will be kept. The floor has been repaired, so at this time the place is used for dancing classes, which relieves the congested schedule at the Gymnasium due to basketball.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council is the governing body of the combined fraternities. It has the power to make and enforce rushing rules, and the final jurisdiction over all questions arising from them. The body is composed of a Junior and a Senior from each of the fraternities, constituting fourteen in all.

WAUBANAKEE

Honorary Senior Society, Established 1911

Membership in Waubanakee is an honor bestowed only to those who have given of their time and ability to the service of their college, and who have been the outstanding men of their class in various college activities. New members are chosen in the latter part of their Junior year. Within the past few years, the society has been active in conducting athletic rallies, and promoting college activities in every possible way. The insignia is a golden pin in the form of a tomahawk. Members wear a black cloth hat with a red tomahawk embroidered on the front.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

Although the Women's Glee Club has been rather an inactive organization in the past, this year it has shown promise of becoming an integral part of undergraduate life on the other side of the hill. Much of its expansion of activity is due to the efforts of Miss Prudence Fish of the Music Department, who has been in control of the club this year. Under her direction the club has been put on a working basis. It now comprises twenty-five voices selected from a large number of prospects. A scholastic requirement has been made further limiting the membership of the organization.

The club will follow out on a smaller scale, the plan on which the Men's Club has been working successfully for several years. Its itinerary will include trips to neighboring towns. Besides the conventional rendering of semi-classical and light songs, an operetta is included in the program of the club for this year.

THE GLEE CLUB

During the past year the Middlebury Glee Club has met with great success. The most pretentious schedule in the history of the club was undertaken, starting with a trip to New Britain, Conn., on the fifth of March. From New Britain the club journeyed to Mamaroneck, N. Y., where another successful concert was given. The following night the club competed in the Intercollegiate Concert at Carnegie Hall, New York City.

Much of the club's success is due to the excellent coaching of Professor Larsen of Burlington and the able directorship of Professor Bonney.

DEBATING SEASON, 1924

Because of a lack of experienced material, but four debates were scheduled. These included both Vermont and Hamilton, old opponents of Middlebury in debating, and in addition Massachusetts Agricultural College and Boston University, newcomers on the Blue's schedule.

The first debate of the season was held in Burlington on March 26, 1924, with Vermont. The Middlebury team composed of Hawthorne and Jackson upheld the affirmative of the question, "Resolved: That the United States should become a member of the World Court as established by the League of Nations." U. V. M. won by a 2-1 decision.

On the 28th, Mass. Aggies appeared in Mead Chapel, winning a unanimous decision over Hade and Toleman, on the same question.

Boston University sent a picked team of law school students to Middlebury on April 9. Middlebury presented a team which was considerably strengthened by the addition of Austin, '24. The debate was hotly contested with B. U. finally gaining the decision of the judges, one of whom was Prof. James Milton O'Neill.

Middlebury met Hamilton College in the auditorium of the State Teachers College in Albany, N. Y., on the evening of April 11, winning from the New York college by a 2-1 vote. This was the rubber debate of three years and the victory gave the Blue and White two victories in the three debates with Hamilton. The Middlebury speakers were Hawthorne, Hade and Austin.

THE WETHERELL PRIZES

There are two prizes amounting to twenty-five dollars each which are awarded each year to those men showing the greatest interest and proficiency in debating. The 1924 awards were made to:

Edgar T. Austin, '24 Dana S. Hawthorne, '26

SEASON, 1925

With an increased number of candidates for positions on the debating teams and the return of five experienced men to the squad, prospects looked bright for a successful season. Manager Hawthorne arranged the most extensive schedule that Middlebury has ever had. Three-men teams were used exclusively and the system of extemporaneous speaking was found so desirable the previous year that it has become a permanent fixture.

The nine men who have spoken in at least one intercollegiate debate this year are: Anderson, '25; Carlson, '26; Chapin, '25; Cooley, '25; Hade, '26; Hawthorne, '26; Leary, '25; Leiby, '25 and Reighard, '27.

SCHEDULE, 1925

February 27—St. Michael's at Winooski Park, Vt.
March 5—Springfield at Springfield, Mass.
March 6—Massachusetts Agricultural College at Amherst, Mass.
March 12—Tufts College at Medford, Mass.
March 19—University of Maine at home.
March 25—University of Vermont at home.
March 31—Clark University at Worcester, Mass.

ERNEST ADAMS, '25.....Treasurer

The Middlebury Dramatic Club, although a comparatively young organization, has during the season of 1924-1925 had the greatest success in its history. Its present enrollment numbers over one hundred members, all of whom take part in some play during the year. With the recent acquisition of the Play House, which was formerly the Weybridge Music Studio, the club has been able to offer for its members a play or group of plays each week. Much of the success of the club's undertakings is due to the work of Professor Cady, who in addition to offering an excellent course in play production, personally supervises the larger productions.

The club is a growing organization and has produced successfully many well-known plays, including "He Who Gets Slapped," by Leonid Andreyev, and "Icebound," by Owen Davis. The second named play was presented twice, the second time as a benefit performance for the townspeople. The scenery for all the plays is the creation of those members of the club who are interested in that department of play production. The women members of the club have shown exceptional ability in the creation of costumes.

Among the several one-act plays given this year are: "Sham," "Indian Summer," "Another Way Out," "The Knave of Hearts," "Ide," "Will o' the Wisp."

The last big play given by the club was "March Hares," a three-act play by Harry Wagner Bribble. It was coached by Paul W. Ward, '25. Among the other plays under consideration are Galsworthy's "Pigeon," Shaw's "Heartbreak House."

EVENTS
P.W.B.

JUNIOR WEEK

CLASS OF 1925

Although rainy Junior Weeks are becoming customary at Middlebury, the class of 1925 scored a big success. The opening event was President Moody's talk to the sub-freshmen, which was preliminary to the departmental tour Friday morning. The first assembly of the whole Junior Week audience was at the Norwich-Middlebury baseball game, and the 5-1 victory made everyone enthusiastic and full of pep for the Prom in the evening. Friday brought its rain and necessitated the calling off of the Vermont game. It wasn't too wet for the rope-pull, however, so at 3 o'clock everyone went over to Porter Field to see the Freshmen win and the "peagreens" went off forever. The Glee Club Concert in the evening gave Middlebury the pleasure of hearing her talent at its best, and Professor Larsen's program was appreciated by both students and visitors. The class of '25 initiated us into a new form of entertainment by having Fraternity Stunts in the Gym on Saturday morning. The silver loving cup, offered to the fraternity presenting the best stunt, went to Chi Kappa Mu, whose entertainment showed the vain efforts of a stage manager at a dress rehearsal of the Ziegfeld Follies. The weather cleared a bit in the evening so everyone could enjoy "Captain Applejack." After the play the Interfraternity Sing was held on the steps of the Gym. The Intersorority Sing was held on the steps of Pearsons, Sunday evening, and marked the end of the Junior Week festivities.

JUNIOR PROMENADE

A bit of Junior ingenuity changed the McCullough Gymnasium into a ball room which was a delight to all who attended the Promenade. The class colors, black and white, were used in a striking background for fraternity colors, and the music which was furnished by "The Bacchanalians" of New Britain, Connecticut made the evening an enjoyable one for everybody.

The chaperones were President and Mrs. Moody, Dean Eleanor S. Ross, Professor and Mrs. Swett, Professor and Mrs. Brown, and Mrs. Maud O. Mason.

JUNIOR WEEK

JUNIOR PLAY

"Captain Applejack"

We hear that "Captain Applejack" had a successful run in New York, but we actually saw its success in Middlebury. The Junior Class found just the characters to grace the "Ancestral Home of Ambrose Applejack" in the first act. In spite of the fact that the second act was only a dream, Captain Kidd couldn't have given a more convincing atmosphere than the pirates chosen from the Junior Class. The difficult rôle of Anna Valeska was taken with such skill that everyone —who didn't really know—wondered about the foreign girl with the beautiful accent. Without darkening the character of the class, it must be admitted that Mr. and Mrs. Pengard were individuals we'd hate to deal with anywhere but in a play. The work of the coach was never better than in this, his own class play.

"INBAD, THE TAILOR"

BY

THE MESSRS. ANDERSON, RAPPORT AND WARD

During the second semester of 1924, for the first time in its history, Middlebury saw a musical comedy. The book was the work of three men from the class of '25. The lyrics and score were, in a great measure, selected. Students from both sides of the Hill cooperated in the production with the Ace of Clubs and William Purdy, '26, dancing instructor.

We meekly confess that we approached McCullough Gymnasium on the evening of the première with a feeling that we were about to witness a very sloppy production. There were to be laughs aplenty, but laughs not designed by the librettists. We were wrong. To be sure, there was very little plot, and what there was of it was trite, but the clever work of the cast kept these little deficiencies quite covered up.

To Miss Wentworth go the laurels. Her two vivacious and sparkling dance numbers put the audience at her feet. We hope only that we may have the opportunity of seeing her dance again.

Miss Cleone Cummings displayed the most charming stage presence we have as yet seen locally. Tickling the fancies of the audience with their Gallic billings and cooings, Wilma Walsh and Paul Ward shared the comic honors with the soft-shoed, long-nosed Courtland Whitney.

In the matter of scenic effects and costuming the production was certainly the best in the history of Middlebury dramatics. The chorus did its bit with zest —and grace. And we have it on very good authority that the book was composed in that very commendable manner: with tongue in cheek.

CLASS DAY

JUNE 14, 1924

Led by their Junior marshals, Marjorie E. Winter and Henry Happ, Jr., the class of nineteen hundred and twenty-four marched in a solemn procession from Egbert Starr Library to the platform in front of Old Chapel. The large audience of parents and friends was welcomed by the Senior class president, Edgar T. Austin. The customary program followed in which Ruth G. Nelson delivered the Class History, James Allan Hunter the Class Oration, Florence L. Bolger the Class Poem, Janice Meade and Robert Brainerd the Class Prophecy, and Florence Noble the Class Essay.

President Paul D. Moody made the announcement of several honors. Eight received the degree of Master of Arts, one of Master of Science. Valedictory honors were given to Charles R. Howard and Amy May Hunt. Salutatory honors to Paris Fletcher and Florence Noble. Seventeen were elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Of the one hundred and twelve graduates, twenty-five received high honors, twenty-nine honors, six graduated magna cum laude, twenty-six cum laude.

SENIOR BALL

JUNE 17, 1924

With blithe spirits and smiling faces, the Seniors, together with alumni and underclassmen, made merry at the final celebration of Commencement Week, the Senior Ball. The Ten Eyck Orchestra from Albany furnished pleasing melody.

The patrons and patronesses were President and Mrs. P. D. Moody, Professor and Mrs. Moreno-LaCalle, Professor and Mrs. J. S. Kingsley, Miss Eleanor Ross, and Mrs. Maud O. Mason.

SENIOR CHAPEL SERVICE

JUNE 18, 1924

At four o'clock directly following the Ball, the Seniors, led by their president met together for a short service in Mead Memorial Chapel. It seems fitting that at the Seniors' last meeting they should be reminded that "the strength of the hills is His also," as they make a new commencement in life.

1927 SOPHOMORE HOP

NOVEMBER 26, 1924

Worthy Hill's Orchestra from Hartford, Conn., proved an irresistible inspiration to enjoy one's self on Thanksgiving Eve. The decorative effects of maroon and white were novel and most successful in disguising the Gymnasium.

The patrons and patronesses were President and Mrs. P. D. Moody, Dean and Mrs. E. J. Wiley, Miss Ruth W. Temple, and Mrs. Maud O. Mason.

FORMAL DANCES

With February comes the beginning of the formal dance season in Middlebury. Sororities and fraternities put forth their greatest effort to give a successful dance, and as yet no failures have been reported. Dinner dances at the Addison House were a pleasing innovation; some, as formerly, were given in McCullough Gymnasium. Sigma Kappa and the Servitors opened the season by dances on March 1st.

INFORMAL DANCES

Wearing, indeed, would be the regular attendance of classes if we could not look forward to the informal "next Saturday night." The Social Committee of the Undergraduate Association, as well as saving us from boredom, makes quite a lot of money, which is used for worthy purposes, such as swelling the "Cage Fund."

COLLEGE ENTERTAINMENT COURSES 1924-1925

Direction Prof. Lewis J. Hathaway

The Entertainment Course listed four concerts and one lecture for its fourth season. The policy of the College to bring the best of talent to Middlebury was maintained, and music lovers were privileged to hear leading exponents of the musical arts.

The Fox, Burgin-Bedetti Trio, a rare artistic combination of violin, piano and 'cello, opened the concert season on the evening of October 29th. Their program, which was difficult and exacting, proved each member to be a master of his instrument, and was a source of delight to the audience.

The DeReszke Singers, accompanied by Mildred Dilling, harpist, rendered a very pleasing and refreshing concert on the evening of November 14th. The quartette was a unique combination of two tenors, a baritone and a basso. The appreciation of the audience was warm and was reciprocated by several encores. Miss Dilling is widely known as a leading harpist, and her selections were rendered with fine technic and beauty.

Irving Bacheller delighted Middlebury with a lecture on the evening of November 20th. Well known and already popular through his writings, his interesting and entertaining talk on faith and happiness made a valuable and lasting impression upon Middlebury students and friends.

Cecil Arden, a prominent soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, gave a recital on the evening of December 5th. Her excellent interpretation and the strength and beauty of her singing charmed the audience, who will long remember specially her inspirational rendering of "Carmen's Dream."

Guiomar Novaes is "the pianist of beautiful sonorities." Her performance Friday evening, January 23rd, was conspicuous for remarkably facile technic and tonal beauty. The audience was enthusiastic and appreciative, and Mme. Novaes generously played several encores.

The season was unquestionably a success from the artistic point of view. It is to be regretted that more did not avail themselves of the opportunities offered by the College, and those who did hope that their enthusiasm will warrant continuation of the course.

WIT
HUMOR

When you are arguing with a fool remember he is doing the same thing.

DOMINANT CHARACTERISTICS

She was the policeman's daughter
And lived on a small side street.
Her shape was like unto Venus,
But—she had her father's feet.

Stude: "Heard the latest scandal?"
Miss Bristol: "No."
Stude: "There evidently isn't any then."

Co-ed: "I want to see some grand pianos. Do you carry them?"
Clerk: "Madam, you flatter me."

ALL ALONE

She (over the telephone): "Can't you come over tonight?"
He: "Why—er I have an exam tomorrow."
She: "That's too bad, you see, father stayed at the club, mother is at a bridge party and brother—"
He: "I'll drop the course and see you in ten minutes."

A wise man never blows his knows.

'26: "Aren't Freddie and Dot pretty thick?"
'25: "Yes, both."

ONE-ACT PLAY

Time—Futuristic.
Setting—Futuristic, modernistic, characteristic and mystic.
Place—Large Ionic dwelling with Gothic doorsteps, Ethiopian roof, Sing Sing windows and panes. Large living room, huge fireplace in which there is fitted a Radio. Above the fireplace there is a picture of Moses at a bargain counter in Jordan Marshes. Similar pieces of art adorn the three walls. A beautiful woman enters wearing a veil (not the 7th) and carefully, gracefully, folds her knees and coils herself before the Radio.
"Well, Well, WUNAKT."

"Rastus, were you raised in the South?"
"Yes, ma'am, but de rope done broke."

Chimney Sweep: "I'll go down first if you don't mind."
Friend: "Soot yourself."

SAME OLD BOY

When oft upon this earth he went
Out with some charming Miss;
He was so bloomin' bashful
He dared not ask for a kiss.

Now he has left this earthly realm
For one a bit correcter;
And just the other day I heard
He took Ambrosia and Nectar.

"FRUIT"

Scene from "THE BUNCH," sung by "NITA"
Music by Peeling

Yes. I am not busy, I am not busy today.
But I'm tired, and sick, and indisposed,
And can't go out today.
I'm really, truly, sorry, but you will understand.
Yes. I am not busy, but me you cannot land.

There are rings of gold and diamond rings
And rings that call forth cries;
But the only rings I gave her
Are the rings beneath her eyes.

Professor Howard: "The specialty of Middlebury is not a department of study, but a type of student. What feature characterizes the Middlebury type?"
John Connelly: "They're all broke."

Junior: "They've called off the dance for Monday. Too many dances lately."
Weiner: "Abun-dances."

AIN'T THIS A STICKER?

Davy: "Why is the use of the concrete in a speech valuable?"
Timid Co-ed: "It sort of er, er, holds the speech together."

One valiant Frosh explained to his astonished Professor that the Papal Bull is the cow kept in the gardens of the Vatican to furnish milk for the Pope.

WHY THE DEBATING TEAM LOST TO TUFTS

(Clipped from a write-up in the Tufts Weekly)

"Mr. Hawthorne was allowed the remainder of his time in rebuttal for the affirmative, after which was announced the unanimous decision of the judges in favor of Tufts."

Prof. Howard cracks a joke in Ped Class.
(Very little response from the Class.)
Waldo: "The repetition of one of those jokes don't go as big as the original."

THE HORRIBLE TRUTH

Professor Longwell asked his Genetics Class if pre-natal events were the cause of birthmarks. "Sure," says MacDonald, "I know of a case where a woman was attacked by a Bear and in spite of all precautions, the child was born with Bare feet."

HORSEBACK RIDERS

Shee: "It took me six weeks to learn to ride a horse."
Ba: "And what did you get for your pains?"
Shee: "Liniment."

Riff: "Why do cigarettes have Oriental names?"
Raff: "Because they have good shapes and thin wrappers."

My new professor is just wonderful. He brings home to you things that you never saw before.
That's nothing, my laundress does that too.

NOT IVORY

(Voice over the 'phone): "Are you the lady that washes?"
"NO."
(Voice over the phone): "You dirty thing."

"These American ladies are too hot for me," said the cannibal chieftain, as he burned his tongue on an especially tender rib.

CAGEY

Mr. Corporan: "Who is that wild looking girl you have been going out with?"

Roy: "She's not wild, she's so tame she likes to be petted."

IN THE WHIRL

A French woman recently looped the loop 212 times in just over an hour. (It is wonderful what some women can do to move in high circles).—London Humorist.

The following is a word picture of a co-ed at Midd on the way to the top of the social (?) ladder, taken from one end of a 'phone. In each case she is asked for a date. (In reality she is backing down the ladder as the picture shows.)

"Yes, I'd love to."
"Yes—surely."
"Why—yes."
"Y—e—ss."
"I guess so."
"Sorry, I can't."
"Why, No."
"N—O."
"NO."

At first they're condescending,
Then they get reserved.
At last they are so HI-Hat
You'd think they were preserved.

AT CALVI'S

Jack Witham: "How do you sell these oranges?"

Joe: "I often wonder myself."

Our idea of the most economical professor is one who looks over his glasses so that he won't wear them out.

Miss Temple: "Young man, the lights in this dorm go out at ten o'clock."
Comet: "That suits me—don't delay on my account."

Coach Brown says that sickness is no longer a cure for mental inertia.

Shakespeare was no broker, but he furnished a lot of stock quotations.

One should change his mind every day to keep it clean.

The cars were piled in frightful wreck,
Mike Papke roared with glee;
He pushed a Pullman off his neck,
"What down was that?" cried he.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The 1926 KALEIDOSCOPE Board takes this means of thanking all members of the class and of the college who have given of their time and effort in the making of this volume.

To others not connected with the college we also wish to express our appreciation of their services:

Dr. John S. Hawthorne who has been of invaluable assistance in arranging the photographs of the campus; Mr. Little and Mr. Hurtubise of the Free Press Printing Co.; and to the White Studio of New York, for their kind assistance and cooperation.

To our advertisers whose support has made possible this book, we extend our thanks and hope that the continuance of the patronage of our subscribers may repay them.

JOBS FOR MIDDLEBURY MEN

The growth of the chain store in the field of retail merchandising is an interesting matter of record and has opened up a wide and productive field of opportunity. McCrory 5 and 10c stores are well known in twenty-two states of the Union—almost half a century old and still growing.

We can use a few college men of the right kind as store managers and for other high executive positions after proper training.

LET ME TEACH YOU
How to Become Popular

This astounding series of lessons will make social lions out of the most demure freshmen.

I, myself, am the greatest living example of the success of this sterling proposition. Once a little lad whom Mother Mason tucked to bed each night at seven—now I am the social hit of the college and have attended such affairs as the Chi Psi Ball, Freshman Frolic and the Saturday Night Forum. All the co-eds seek me out. And now for the meager sum of ten dollars ($10) I will help you to become equally successful.

Here's what others say who have gained social glory through my system:

D.D.F. "I never could have won 'Dot' without Mullen's system."

F.W. "It has increased my number of completed dates out of attempted phone calls from 1 out of 258 to 8 out of 3."

E.C. McC. "I had tried repeatedly to become popular but never succeeded till Gus taught me how. Such popularity must be deserved."

Write, phone, or wire immediately to G. Augustus Mullen, 460 Hepburn Hall, for further particulars and testimonials.

Did You Ever Hold An Audience Spellbound?

WHY is it that some men and women whom you have heard speak are able to hold an audience spellbound — are able to play upon the emotions of dozens or thousands of people as easily as the average musician plays upon his musical instrument?

Training Is The Answer!

Did you ever hear William T. Hade, the world's greatest orator? Why is it that he can stand so gracefully before an audience and convince his listeners even against their will—can hold their rapt attention—can bring tears to their eyes—can make them shake the walls of the building with their laughter—with such evident ease?

Thousands have taken his Powerful Public Speaking Course and have become successful. You too may take advantage of this wonderful offer. Fill in coupon to day.

OF INTEREST TO PARENTS

A college man, recently graduated and knowing what the fellows liked, suggested to us that we prepare two well-balanced assortments of the essentials for a real spread.

We did, and showed him the lists. He thought they were excellent. We then submitted the lists to the scrutinizing eye of a college woman, and she was equally enthusiastic.

Then we asked the parents of several college students to give us their opinions. They had faced the problem a number of times and knew how difficult it was to arrange all the details and accomplish the best results.

They promptly placed their hearty approval upon our plan and expressed the hope that we would distribute the information widely among parents of boys and girls in "prep" school and college.

Each assortment contains a splendid variety of sandwich fillings, crackers, cake, relishes, fruit confections and sweets. Prices and details on request.

He Didn't Take Her To The Prom

Her name selected from the College Catalog—then the the date to the movies. Expectancy!

She was an attractive girl too. But somehow the evening turned out to be a failure. He never asked her again.

That's the insidious thing about halitosis (unpleasant breath). You, yourself, Girls, rarely know when you have it.

Use BLISTERINE!

May be purchased at LONG'S Confectionery Shop, NOVAK'S, or your own Barber's.
